BY DORIS LICAMELI

The biography of an incredible heroine, depicted in an exciting story that will keep kids devouring chapter after chapter, right up to the Afterword that ends with present times.

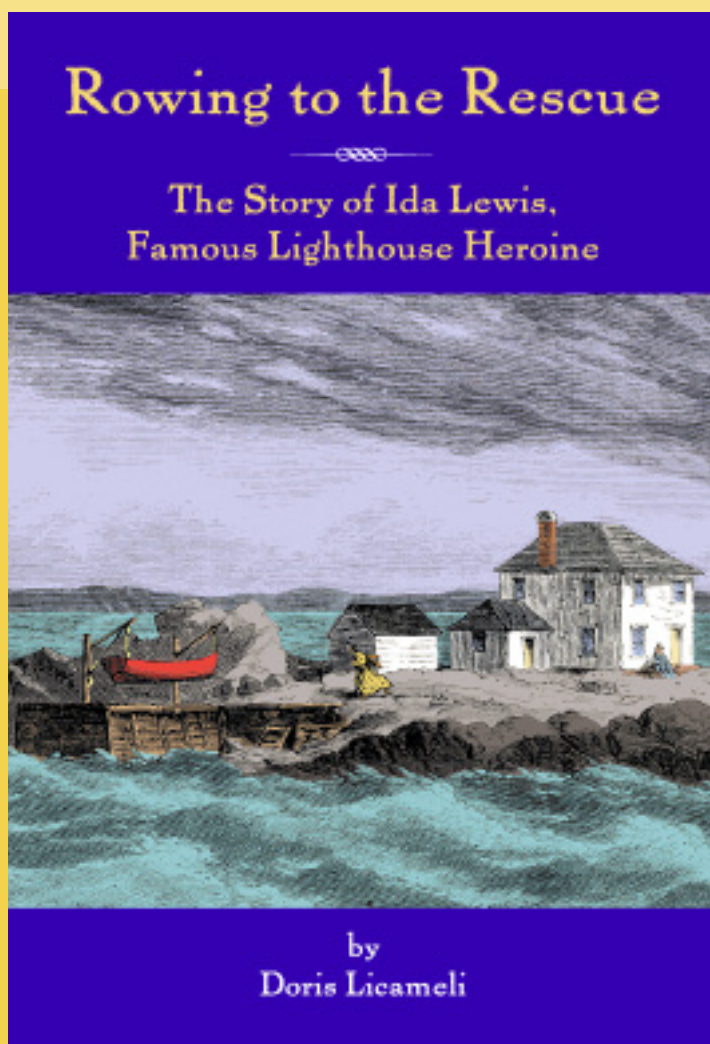

“ A teenager thrust into her father’s demanding job - running a busy lighthouse? Sounds like just the right mix for a wonderful fiction tale, except it’s a true story. And Ida Lewis’s remarkable adventures will light up the hearts of young people, especially girls ages 8-12.”

- MEL CEBULASH, Author of WILLIE’S WONDERFUL PET, THE RUTH MARINI SERIES, and many other books for young readers

“ It is a charming story and I hope it is a great success.”

- BERTRAM LIPPINCOTT III, Reference Librarian and Genealogist, Newport Historical Society

Doris Licameli is a 1999 New Jersey Library Association Journalism Award Winner for her Bergen News feature article titled “New Fairview Library Popular Summer Hangout.”
